

Meet your photoleader

CHERYL STEWART

Cheryl has led trips where peoples' equipment ranged from iPads to DSLR's. Her experience shooting in conditions - from the rainforest in Rwanda to the blizzards on the Beaufort Sea, to a week ride along with the Tornado Hunters - showcase her adaptability and resourcefulness.

Her love of travel and the outdoors has led her to locations around the world, from the Northern coast of Alaska to the Southern seas of Antarctica, always with cameras in tow.

Her images have been used on magazine covers, in corporate offices, calendars, Christmas cards & jigsaw puzzles, and they hang in numerous homes and businesses across Canada and the US.

Since graduating college, as a Certified Photographer, Cheryl continued her education with fellow professionals in the classroom and in the field. Her easy going, patient and flexible teaching style will put you at ease. She excels at sharing her knowledge in an encouraging and positive manner and, can assist any level of photographer. "My job is to enhance your ability to get the images you want with the equipment you have," Cheryl explains.

Cheryl and her husband Greg live in Regina, Saskatchewan. Both Greg & Cheryl love to travel, and if he's not on a fishing trip somewhere, and she's not on a photo trip somewhere, they travel together... somewhere.

Some of the locations she has photographed: Yellowknife, Peterson's Point Lake Lodge, Tanzania, Rwanda, South Africa, Botswana, Cambodia, Viet Nam, Iceland, Norway, Scotland, Alaska, Antarctica, South Georgia, Patagonia, Easter Island, The Falklands, Hawaii, Churchill (Manitoba), Zion Bryce & Escalante National Parks, Yellowstone NP, Joshua Tree NP, Theodore Roosevelt NP, Banff NP, Jasper NP, all over Saskatchewan, Canada, and many more....

"I haven't been everywhere yet, but.. It's on my list"
