

Arctic Photography Workshop

Peterson's Point Lake Lodge

Point Lake, Northwest Territories

A unique photography workshop designed for all skill levels, from beginner to experienced.

Wildlife, Northern Lights & Landscape

From floor to sky, our Arctic Photography Workshop is the perfect blend of ground-level photo opportunities and night sky photography.

You'll explore traditional migration trails of the barren-ground caribou in search of wildlife amidst vibrant hues of autumn while enjoying five nights to focus on northern lights photography and stargazing.

Held at Peterson's Point Lake Lodge, on the edge of the barrens, watch for caribou, grizzly bears, moose, wolves, wolverine and smaller animals such as weasels and sik siks plus a variety of birds. Delicate yet hearty shrubs, plants, fungi, lichens and mosses that carpet the ground beneath your feet provide limitless macro photography compositions; undulating hills and steep cliffs make for striking landscapes.

Situated under the auroral oval, our remote fly-in lodge provides the ideal location to see the northern lights with viewing opportunities right from your cabin. Lakeside access outside your cabin door, its perfect for capturing aurora reflections.

Led by professional photographer Cheryl Stewart, you'll receive practical advice and technical tips that are easy to apply to help you get the photographs you want, using equipment you have. Experienced guides also accompany the group for their wildlife spotting skills and for safety. Small group sizes mean you'll have plenty of in-field instruction when desired.
