

Arctic Photography Workshop

Peterson's Point Lake Lodge

Point Lake, Northwest Territories

A unique photography workshop designed for all skill levels, from beginner to experienced.

Wildlife, Northern Lights & Landscape

Join us for a photo safari that will immerse you in the awe-inspiring barrenlands while, captivating you under the canopy of the night sky. Explore the autumn-hued barrens in search of wildlife like barren-ground caribou, grizzly bears, moose, wolves, and wolverines. Keep an eye out for smaller creatures such as weasels, and sik-siks, along with an array of birds.

The ground itself is a masterpiece, carpeted with shrubs, plants, fungi, lichens, and mosses that inspire stunning macro compositions. Meanwhile, undulating hills and rugged cliffs set the stage for dramatic landscape shots.

Nestled under the auroral oval, Peterson's Point Lake Lodge is the ideal location to see the northern lights. With lakeside access right outside your cabin, it's the perfect vantage point to capture aurora reflections.

Led by professional photographer, Cheryl Stewart, you'll gain practical techniques and personalized tips to elevate your skills, no matter your camera setup. Experienced lodge guides accompany the group on boating excursions, for wildlife spotting and safety. Small group sizes, means you'll enjoy tailored in-field instruction when desired.

Whether you're specifically drawn to the rich autumn colours, incredible wildlife, stunning landscapes or northern lights, this workshop showcases the best of the Northwest Territories. Join us for a fun filled amazing time!
